We need your help!

Meet some of 54 cats found in a single bedroom apartment. Thirty of the cats had been born within a 2 month window and required special care when first rescued by cruelty investigators. So many of the animals we find in hoarding situations are not healthy and quite malnourished with all requiring medical attention (deworming, vaccinations and spaying or neutering at a bare minimum). Through the Nova Scotia SPCA Provincial Animal Shelter in Dartmouth they received the care they required and today they are in loving homes and enjoying life.
